

|    |
|----|
| 1) |
| 2) |
| 3) |
| 4) |

Check in with the rabbi at this point

5. Pick one of these topics/questions

|  |
|--|
|  |
|--|

6. Research what other great Jewish thinkers have said about this subject. Sources may be found in your synagogue library, on the Internet (<http://uahc.org/torah/index.shtml>) or books such as Fields, A Torah Commentary for our Time

7. What do you lessons do you learn from this text? How does it apply to your life? Tell a story to illustrate how this applies to your life.

8. Write a rough draft (final will be 1-2 typed pages, double spaced)

|  |
|--|
| 1) Summarize what happens in your own words                            |
| 2) Ask a question of the text  |
| 3) What do great Jewish thinkers say about the question?               |
| 4) What do you learn from the text and how does it apply to your life? |
| 5) How does it apply to all of our lives?                              |

Check in with the rabbi at this point

9. Write final draft. Should be typed and double-spaced.

Check in with the rabbi at this point